DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 3-5 must be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 3, applicant should clarify the structure intended by "a main contact point for a plurality of phases." In line 6, there is no antecedent basis for "the neighboring main contact points." The specific structure of the emission path is not clear. In line 9, there is no antecedent basis for "the inner wall face of the interphase barrier."

In claim 3, applicant should clarify the structure intended. It is not clear how the concave section is "sandwiched."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1, as best understood in view of the rejections under USC 112, 2nd paragraph, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's admitted prior art shown in figures 3-5, AAPA, hereinafter in view of Castonguay et al. [US 6,037,555].

AAPA discloses an electromagnetic contactor [figure 3] having a plurality of contact points [figure 5] for a plurality of phases, each including a pair of fixed contacts [1] opposed to each other and a movable contact [2] for bridging the fixed contacts wherein the neighboring contact points have an interphase barrier [17] disposed therebetween and an emission path for arc gases created when the contacts are opened or closed [figure 5].

AAPA disclose everything claimed except the concave section within the walls interphase barriers facing the contact points.

Castonguay et al. discloses a separable contact set [404, 406] within a phase of a circuit breaker [figure 2] having a concave section [414] formed by the walls of the contact chamber [figure 3].

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a concave section within the interphase walls of AAPA, as suggested by Castonguay et al., in order to precool the arc gases.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-3 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
